Women in IPA #SHEisIPA

The project is supported by Team Leader Karen Duckworth and developed with the #SHEisIPA programme which is now known throughout the IPA and non-IPA world.

Social media with the press and communication with every possible form of support/advertising with posts, interviews, seminars, magazines, gadgets and anything else possible are affected.

In collaboration with Gimborn, the first seminar organised by the PC, precisely by the working group led by Team Leader Karen Duckworth, with a notable female participation (46 policewomen from 26 Nations). A success with almost 100% positive feedback and the desire to continue with other editions, expanding the number with the International Sections.

The second edition is expected, again in Gimborn from 14 to 18 April 2025.

Young Members

Left to right: Project Lead Philipp Kurz IPA Germany, Yvonne McGregor IPA UK, Joyce O'Grady IPA Ireland, Mirco Ciccarese IPA Italy and Vesna Znidaric Bolaric PA Croatia

The Young Police Officer Seminar (YPOS) took place in April, organised by the Austrian Section in Vienna with a large participation of young and willing police officers from 22 different International Sections.

The location was excellent, the participation intense and stimulating with the support of the IPA friends from Austria who made the week pleasant and professional with moments of study, training and visits to the police structures, in particular of the Wegga and Cobra anti-terrorism groups.

As part of the same, a day dedicated to Strategic Young Members Conference (SYMC) where one of the members of the PC highlighted what was done in one of the conferences held in the Irish Section.

The PC is now developing a second project which will be carried out by 2025, which has already been approved, consisting of the SYMC conference and which will take place in one of the International Sections.

Education

By now the brand new project has also evolved which diversifies into various initiatives starting from participation in the management work of the IBZ Gimborn Assembly.

Continued over...

INTRODUCTION FROM CHAIRPERSON PROFESSIONAL COMMISSION DIEGO TROLESE

Various topics and programmes for the seminars are discussed; involved the Centre with one of the sub-projects for possible external courses, organised by the Sections with the intervention and direction of the IBZ Gimborn.

The working group of Team Leader Barbara Weberova is committed to proposing and following the preparation of the necessary procedures for the sub-projects and involved by other Associations for a fruitful collaboration with IEDO International E. Drone Organization and DTG Defence Tactical Group.

I conclude by stating that forms of collaboration between projects with the initiatives and professionalism of the working groups and their Team Leaders are absolutely not excluded. The collaboration between the Chairpersons of the Commissions who support and support each other in carrying out their tasks in favour of the IPA Members should not be underestimated.

IPA GIBRALTAR EMERGENCY AID DONATION

Following the natural disaster with our neighbouring country in the Valencian region, our section on the 4th of November 2024 made a donation of £500.00 to the IPA Valencia section. I wasn't expecting a response as we know that our colleagues over there were extremely occupied with their labours, however the section president, Silvia DELATORRE did reply, passing on her appreciation.

One of our members, PC Amira MORILLO also organised a drop off point at our club of items requested such as cleaning products, nappies, pet food, clothing and other basic essentials which was taken then to the region by volunteers in their own personal vehicles from Gibraltar and our neighbouring Spanish town, La Linea de la Concepcion.

#SHEISIPA SEMINAR

Following the success of the #SHEisIPA Seminar “Embracing an Inclusive Vision for the Future” that took place from 1-5th November 2024, a few sections reflect on their experiences from this event.

IPA SPAIN

Between the 1st and 5th of November, 45 women from more than 25 countries were able to take part in the seminar held in IBZ Gimborn, whose main objective was the visibility of women in IPA, and mainly, to highlight and promote the role of women, not only in IPA and in the ‘police society’, but also in any area of society.

During these days, apart from being able to obtain first-hand information about the different projects that are carried out within IPA (such as Green IPA), its financial structure, education such as YPOS, more socio-cultural events such as IPA sports or the photography competition, the seminars gave us the opportunity to get to know more closely, and above all, to learn from the professional and personal experiences of other female colleagues, told in the best way... by themselves, and supported by their own photos, a reflection of their great careers.

In a totally “family” atmosphere, during the seminars it was possible to exchange information and great experiences of colleagues with long professional careers both in the police and within the IPA, generating in the younger ones “the bug” to continue with the legacy that they had already created, achieving the great visibility that currently and increasingly has women in IPA and in society as a whole. It was possible to highlight the necessary networking that must exist between all of them, the communication and support between each other, with the objective to create a new and better way of life for women. Equally enriching were the free moments during the lunches and dinners, in which the cultural richness of the more than 25 countries represented was evident, not only in their variety and exquisite gastronomic representation, but also in the conversations that “friends” shared about their own cultures, their own police, their own ways of working and their own ways of thinking. IPA is more than an association and its motto “servo per amikeco” was perfectly reflected during the days of this event.

It was possible to highlight the great importance of being able to give visibility, not only to this type of seminars, but also to any act carried out by women, in order to awaken “the interest” and thus attract other women to become part of IPA, or simply to be able to “eliminate the shame” that perhaps other women colleagues feel and as a consequence, do not dare to take the step to actively take part in this type of organization. It was a unanimous feeling among the women present that it is important for each person, each woman, to have “a role” within IPA, and thus to feel a sense of usefulness, to feel important, and therefore to increase their participation in the organization. A visibility that, because of the society in which we live, must be focused mainly on social media and on the internet, without forgetting the more classic, but always successful, such as magazines.

#SHEISIPA SEMINAR

Superwomen...Unstoppable...are adjectives, like many others, that can define the current and future role of women both in IPA and today. It is impressive to be able to see (on social networks, on television...) how women from all over the world, with their corresponding uniforms, exchange information and opinions in order to improve and grow together, but it is simply inexplicable the feeling of having been able to be part of this group of women who form IPA and of this seminar. #SHEisIPA.

I joined the police service for more than 40 years ago. We were few female police officers compared to our male colleagues. In the various police stations, we were 1-2 in uniformed police and maybe 1 female officer in the investigation division. Nowadays, the situation regarding female officers in Norway has changed. Approximately, 70 % of all applicants to the police training were females a year ago, and 50 % started their police training. Still, we have a way to go to keep more female officers in uniformed police, not to mention in leading positions. SHEisIPA is very important for the movement we started in Gimborn November 2024! My challenge to all my female colleagues is to first of all, join IPA, then go for positions in your IPA section boards and committees. Together we can do it.

Seminar on the role of women in the police system: Experiences from IBZ Gimborn, Germany

In 2024 November 1-5 I had the unique opportunity to participate in a women's seminar held at the Police Training Centre (IBZ Gimborn) in Gimborn Castle, Germany. It was an extremely important and inspiring event focused on the role of women in policing, gender issues and strategies to attract more women into law enforcement, as well as the International Police Association (IPA).

The seminar was filled with a variety of discussions and presentations that explored the challenges and opportunities women face in policing. Most of the participants came from different countries and cultures, so each story and experience was special. One of the most prominent themes seemed to be the gender inequality that still exists in the law enforcement systems of many countries. The discussions emphasized how women in the police often face stereotypes, discrimination and lack of opportunities to develop with equal rights with their male colleagues.

One of the highlights of the workshop was the discussion on strategies to attract more women to the police and the International Police Association. Sharing experiences with colleagues from different countries made it clear that each country has different practices and challenges, but the common goal is the same: to create more equal and attractive working conditions. We discussed various initiatives to promote women, such as mentoring programs, education and training opportunities, as well as professional support and motivation.

At the end of the seminar, practical tasks were organised, which allowed the participants to test their skills in solving difficult situations that often occur in police work. It was a great opportunity not only to learn new methods, but also to share our experience with other participants, strengthening international cooperation.

This seminar was very valuable for me personally. It was not only a great opportunity to get to know the police structures of other countries and their experience, but also an opportunity to reflect on our own experience and look for ways to contribute to strengthening the role of women in the police in Lithuania. On a separate note, meetings with women from different countries and cultures provided invaluable insight into the global challenges and opportunities women face in law enforcement. Many new and beautiful friendships have emerged during this workshop, and I hope that this communication will continue.

This seminar definitely made me even more committed to fighting for women's equality and their legitimate opportunities to occupy higher positions in police structures. It was a step forward not only in personal but also professional growth, and I believe that the acquired knowledge and experience will help create more opportunities for women in our country.

Thanks to all organisation team, it was really pleasure to meet you all. Hope to see you again.

Servo per Amikeco!

UPDATES FROM THE INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS COMMISSION

MEETING AT THE COUNCIL OF EUROPE

International Relations Commission (IRC) members Eugene Thomas and Martin Laubis, together with the Chair of the IRC, Oliver Hoffmann, met in December 2024 the President of the Conference of INGOs, Mr Ermischer, at the Council of Europe. IPA representatives discussed with Mr Ermischer the way forward to regain our participatory status at the Council.

IPA currently has a working relationship with the Commission on Culture and Heritage and is seeking a working relationship in the areas of gender equality and anti-corruption. The IEB intends to re-apply for participatory status in February 2025.

After a fruitful exchange, Oliver Hoffmann presented Mr Ermischer with Arthur the Fox a gift for his continued support.

ACCESS TO THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT

After successfully updating our registration on the European Parliament's Transparency Register, IRC Chair Oliver Hoffmann had the opportunity to pick up the first IPA badge giving access to the European Parliament in Strasbourg and Brussels.

Any member in need of such a badge should contact Oliver Hoffmann at chair-irc@ieb-ipa.org to be registered in the system. Our aim is to establish contact with the EP Commissions dealing with law enforcement and with MEPs with a LEO background. If you have personal contact with either, please let Oliver Hoffmann or Commission member Willem Schewe know.

IPA NETHERLANDS BLUE LIGHT RIDE

On Wednesday the 11th of December 2024, the Blue Light Ride took place for the third time. During the Blue Light Ride, a large number of emergency crew members dedicate their free time to hopefully make ill children and patients of various North Limburg healthcare institutions forget for a moment that they are ill. They do this through a ride where a motley procession of emergency vehicles drives through the region. This year, the Blue Light Ride took place for the first time under the banner of the IPA, with the Limburg-Noord district playing an important role.

That afternoon, hundreds of emergency crew members gathered at the fire station in Panningen. While enjoying cake and a cup of coffee, there was an opportunity to get to know each other better in relaxed circumstances. After all, many of these emergency workers often only meet each other at (stressful) incidents making such occasions rare.

In the meantime the IPA was present with a member recruitment booth.

After the briefing, a group photo was taken with all the participants. The participants this year were not only from the Netherlands, Germany and Belgium, but even an officer from the Sussex Police (United Kingdom) traveled to The Netherlands to witness the spectacle. She had heard about the event through the IPA and wanted nothing more than to experience the Blue Light Ride herself.

At 15:00, an impressive convoy of about a hundred vehicles left Panningen for a ride of about an hour and a half.

The nearly two-kilometre-long convoy was expertly escorted by motor officers from the Limburg Police, Royal Marechaussee and German Landespolizei Nordrhein-Westfalen. The Cross-Border Police Team (GPT) played an important role in this.

IPA NETHERLANDS BLUE LIGHT RIDE

Several healthcare facilities were visited along the way. Along the route, emergency crews were waved at many places by the crowds present.

IPA members from different parts of the Netherlands were on hand to volunteer. The IPA Motorcycle Club was also present with two motorcyclists, partly to transport special guests.

The convoy then drove to the VieCuri Medical Centre in Venlo where Tim, one of the patients from the children's ward, was allowed to count down. Arriving at 0, the car park turned into a (deafening) sea of blue light.

Lifeboats on the river Maas, blue-lit apartment buildings and a police helicopter flying low, completed the spectacle. A spectacle that gave goose bumps and tears to the patients, their family members but also emergency crews.

The emergency workers were offered a delicious fresh cup of soup by IPA Limburg-Noord. For this, some volunteers had spent the whole day in the kitchen. Given the cold, this was greatly appreciated.

In the meantime, presents were handed out at the children's ward and obstetrics departments. Police, Royal Marechaussee and ambulance service motorbikes were also brought to the children's ward via the elevator so that the patients could take their seats. The children visibly enjoyed this.

The organisation, made up partly of IPA members, looks back on a very successful edition of the Blue Light Ride. As an emergency services family, we hopefully made people forget for a while that they are ill and did justice to the event's slogan 'Bringing (blue) light in the dark December days'.

IPA BRAZIL THE NATIONAL FLAG DAY

As a curiosity, Brazil since its discovery by the Portuguese in April 1500 to the present date, has had thirteen representative flags hoisted on its soil, ten of which related to Portugal, and the last three made were in fact Brazilian: that of independence with Brazil-Empire, and two related to the proclamation of the Republic, the first lasting only four days, and the second is the one that lasts until the present time.

Bandeira Imperial do Brasil (1822-1889)

Bandeira provisória da República
(15 a 19/11/1889)

Bandeira Nacional - atual
(hasteada em 19/11/1889)

For the Brazilian Section of the IPA, the celebration of Flag Day is a permanent calendar in the Entity's Annual Management Plan. In fact, it is one of the few Brazilian institutions that celebrate this date with emphasis, and this year was no different. However, IPA Brazil chose for 2024 a different celebration to the commemorative style of previous years, and with this we produced one of the biggest events that took place for this celebration in the last 25 years. In addition to setting up a specific area for the event, located at the side of the Museum of the Republic in the capital of the country, Brasília/DF, we seek the participation of children and young people who participate in social groups, such as scouts, junior guards, junior firefighters, the Pathfinders, daycare centres, orphanages, public schools, Jiu-Jitsu and Judo academy, as well as members of schools for Autistic people and other people with physical, hearing and visual disabilities.

In short, it was a project developed in partnership with the Secretariat of Culture and the Secretariat of Tourism of the Government of the Federal District/Brazil, aimed at inherent social problems, which was resolved with a resounding success, which became included in the calendar of government events. It took a lot of pressure for IPA Brazil to see those "little ones" in a position of respect, listening to the Brazilian National Anthem and the Anthem to the Brazilian Flag, under the baton of a conductor from the orchestra of the Civic-Police School of Colégio Dom Pedro II, a patron of the Brazilian police.

IPA BRAZIL THE NATIONAL FLAG DAY

In this same commemorative tone, the Academic Centre – IPA Brazil, in partnership with the International Academy of Law and Ethics, promotes an International Symposium with the theme: Law and Ethics, in which numerous jurists of national and international renown, in whom we can mention as for example, the Rector of the University of Mozambique, the professor, writer, lawyer and rector of the University of Aquila, Teodoro Waty, who promoted an opening lecture of the Symposium over a period of three days.

The theme was : “Experiences from Africa”, which will be part of a series on NetFlix, with the title: “A Amarrada Chuva de Kamutxukhêti”, among others that were part.

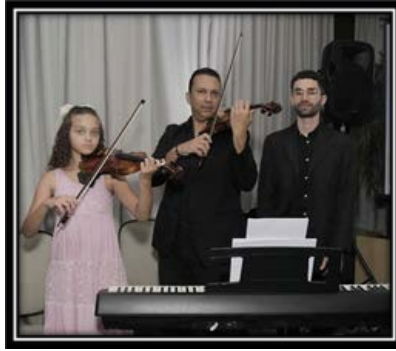

a total list of ten speakers from Spain, Portugal, Argentina, Brazil, France, and Germany, all members of the Academic world of Law with tacit international representation, with some originating from police career, in which he addresses topics such as “Moral Harassment” (Dr. Rodrigo Rodrigues), “Violation of Life” (Dr. Valéry Nogueira), Law and Ethics – Challenges in Daily Life (Dr. Cláudio Avelar), on “Truth, Law and Ethics” (Dr. Joel Z. Mazo), and others of no less importance to the context. The Symposium featured a plenary session of authorities from the national judiciary, the Brazilian Bar Association and police officers who work in the area of judicial police.

In short, an academic event that resulted in praise for the theme presented, as well as for the organisation, being considered unique for a time in which law and ethics are in “turbulence”, according to the words of the president of the International Academy of Law and Ethics , Dr. Hélio Machado. For the president of IPA Brazil: The time has passed for us to talk about this topic related to law and ethics in the current situation in which the world finds itself today, let us not forget that the sword without the law is pure violence, but the law without the sword is mere utopia.”

The celebrations did not exclude a traditional commemorative dinner that gave rise to a “Tribute to King Pelé”, an internationally known football player, due to the fact that he was and still is, a representation of national prominence that allowed the Brazilian flag to fly in football stadiums. of the five continents of this planet.

IPA BRAZIL THE NATIONAL FLAG DAY

In a golden finale, the representative of IPA Brazil at the Pan-American 2024, held in San Jose/Costa Rica, member Carlos Alexandre Manhães Serva Emídio, became runner-up in the 220 kg bench press Powerlifting modality, in addition to breaking records of the Pan-American master I, South American open and master I, Brazilian open and master I and State open and master I. The strength of the IPA and the Brazilian Section took to the podium to maintain representation of the institution at national and international level.

IPA COLOMBIA UNITE CAMPAIGN TO END VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN

At the close of the sixteen days of activism of the UNITE campaign to end violence against women and girls, led by the United Nations General Secretariat, the International Police Association IPA – Colombia Section presents the work “A Hug of Hope” by the painter JORGE HERNANDO MURILLO MESA, a friend associated with IPA Colombia.

This painting is a contribution to the global initiative to raise awareness, care for and protect our women and girls. It is composed of different figures that evoke the importance of each of the actors in society to put an end to the scourge of violence of which they are victims.

On the canvas, a female patrol officer is seen, as a figure of security, authority, defence and justice, who invites with her hand to stop any act of violence. The ring on her ring finger represents the family as the main institution of society. For her part, the girl, from her innocence and vulnerability, calls us to protect women from childhood with love, assistance, responsibility and diligence. The painting will be permanently displayed at the IPA COLOMBIA offices and presented at relevant events in which our Section participates.

IPA Colombia remains committed to this initiative. Therefore, on the 25th of each month, proclaimed “Orange Day” by the United Nations, we will carry out various actions to raise awareness about this problem, so that, together, we continue to take measures to end violence against women and girls.

Para poner fin a la violencia contra las Mujeres y las Niñas

La Asociación Internacional de Policía IPA - Sección Colombia participando de la campaña liderada por la Secretaría General de las Naciones Unidas, ha creado de la mano de nuestro amigo JORGE HERNANDO MURILLO MESA la obra

Un abrazo de Esperanza

Cada uno de los elementos de la obra simboliza nuestro amor y compromiso con las mujeres, su protección y dignidad.

La patrullera, como figura de seguridad, autoridad, defensa y justicia, invita con su mano a detener cualquier acto de violencia. La argolla en su dedo anular representa a la familia como la institución principal de la sociedad. Por su parte, la niña desde su inocencia y vulnerabilidad, nos convoca a amparar, con amor, asistencia, responsabilidad y diligencia, a las mujeres desde su infancia.

Que tus manos sean fuente de amor y vida.

IPA UK MET POLICE DOG TRAINING SCHOOL

On 21 and 28 November, a small group of International Police Association (IPA) members, including serving, retired, and international guests, visited the Metropolitan Police Dog Training School in Keston. The group was warmly welcomed by staff from the London Retired Police Dog Trust, who accompanied them throughout the visit.

The tour began with an introduction to the site's facilities and the proud history of training police dogs. Attendees were treated to an hour-long pass-out parade, showcasing the impressive skills of the dogs. Highlights included obedience exercises and thrilling role-play scenarios where dogs chased and apprehended simulated suspects in the outdoor field.

Guests also had the opportunity to meet some of the highly trained search dogs and speak with their handlers, gaining insight into their specialized work.

The visit concluded with an opportunity to support the London Retired Police Dog Trust by purchasing gifts and memorabilia from their pop-up store.

The day was both informative and inspiring, leaving attendees with a deep appreciation for the dedication of the handlers, volunteers, and, of course, the remarkable police dogs who play a vital role in law enforcement.

OBITUARY OF JÜRGEN KLÖS OF IPA GERMANY

With great sadness, we bid farewell to Jürgen Klös, who passed away on December 14, 2024, at the age of 95. Born on January 17, 1929, in Berlin, he became a member of the International Police Association (IPA) on January 1, 1960, and shaped our community for decades with his tireless dedication, visionary leadership, and unwavering commitment to the values of the IPA.

Jürgen Klös began his journey within the IPA at the Berlin-West branch and the regional board, before being elected President of IPA Germany in Hamburg in 1975. In the same year, the international IPA community elected him as the third International Vice President in Calgary, Canada. In this role, he chaired the International Professional Commission and significantly influenced the work of the internal commission.

Notably, he served as a long-standing advisor to the international board, where his foresight and expertise helped steer the strategic direction of the IPA. A milestone of his tenure was the introduction of the standardised membership card - a symbol of unity within our global community.

In 1979, Jürgen Klös was elected First International Vice President, and in 1982, he reached the pinnacle of his IPA career with his election as International President. With determination and vision, he guided the IPA through a critical phase of growth and international networking. Even after stepping down as President of IPA Germany in 1984 and as International President in 1988, he remained a steadfast companion and supporter of our organisation.

For his extraordinary contributions, Jürgen Klös was honoured with numerous awards, including the Federal Cross of Merit (1984) and the Federal Cross of Merit First Class (2003). These accolades recognise a lifetime of achievements that extended far beyond the boundaries of the IPA.

With Jürgen Klös, we lose not only an exceptional visionary and advocate for international police friendship but also a man who embodied the values of the IPA with heart, intellect, and camaraderie. His legacy will continue to inspire and guide us.

Our deepest condolences go to his family and all who knew and cherished him.

With profound gratitude and friendship,

IPA Germany and International Executive Board
